IBERIAN

The unique personality of a wine can be distorted by the harmful effects of ultraviolet rays.

The marvellous light of the Mediterranean climate is harmful to the balance of our wines. Prolonged exposure to unfiltered light destroys the nuances that give the wine its distinctive character.

A quality wine deserves quality packaging that provides prestige and keeps the aroma, flavour and colour of this exquisite beverage intact.

DIFFERENTIATION AND INNOVATION: THE KEYS TO SUCCESS

Packaging design has become one of the main means of providing your product with personality and creating awareness to ensure that your brand is easily identifiable and to attract the attention of increasingly demanding consumers.

Differentiation and innovation are no longer an option but a necessity for companies aiming to achieve preferential market positioning.

If you wish, Saint-Gobain Viscasa's Packaging Design Centre will be happy to create a customised model. A qualified team of professionals will help you to make your ideas and projects a reality, providing advice on the different combinations of shapes, mouths and engravings. They will use the most modern techniques to create a draft and 3D image of your bottle.
